

MPX Bridge

Bridging Local and Global Investment Markets

With the lack of universal licenses and systems to match global investors with local capital issuers, a significant portion of the world's SME issuers is left with no access to the full range of global buyers and investors. MPX Bridge solves for this.

Bridge is a compliant market hub that gathers technology and data tools to connect the global ecosystem of buy-side and sell-side institutions. It facilitates the distribution and direct selling of local financial products without boundaries.

In addition, Bridge enables issuers to tokenize private securities, providing them and their agents access to the rising pool of investors with appetite for digital assets.
